THE HEIGHTS OF AMICALOLA MOUNTAIN – at 2,400' elevation is where you'll find this sanctuary of seventy-three acres with a resident mountain home and magnificent mountain views overlooking North Georgia. The property has given much joy to its current owners and is looking for the next steward to continue the journey. From a tranquil primary residence or a family retreat, a hunting lodge or hosting events, or for the sheer specialness - this is an example of a property that rarely makes itself available for acquisition. Excellent location from which to explore North Georgia where activities and attractions abound. From wineries, quaint mountain towns, major shopping and dining, hiking the AT, fishing wild trout streams, local events, there's much to do and see.
